Axa, Passione per la ceramica
 Coniugando l'eccellenza del tradizionale artigianato italiano alle più moderne tecnologie e con continua attenzione alle mutevoli esigenze di design e funzionalità, AXA, dal 1995, ricerca un nuovo concetto di ambiente bagno che sia in grado di esprimere la profonda passione sottesa al prodotto ceramico; dal pensiero nasce l'idea che si rivela grazie al perfetto connubio tra mani esperte, terra, acqua, aria e fuoco in un processo complesso pienamente appagato solo dalla creazione di prodotti unici in grado di rendere il bagno protagonista assoluto dello spazio casa

Axa, Passion for ceramic.
 Combining the excellence of the traditional Italian craftsmanship with the latest technologies and with a constant attention to the changing trends of design and functionality, Axa, since 1995, looks for a new concept of bathroom, able to express the deep passion underlying the ceramic product; from this purpose comes the idea which is revealed thanks to the perfect blending of expert hands, mold, water, air and fire, in a complex process fully satisfied only by the creation of unique products making the bath the absolute protagonist of the home space.

Ingente risparmio d'acqua e massima igiene per semplicità di pulizia: questi i risultati innovativi del sistema NO RIM.

L'acqua si immette dinamicamente e si distribuisce in maniera uniforme sull'intera superficie. Con il sistema senza brida il vaso viene pulito con maggiore forza e senza spruzzi, garantendo un sanitario prestazionale nel tempo.

RISPETTO DELL'AMBIENTE

ALL' APICE DELLE NOSTRE PRIORITA'

Axa si impegna, sin dal 2001, a contribuire con ricerca e sviluppo al risparmio idrico e, anticipando di oltre una decade l'attuale orientamento dei mercati, certifica tutti i suoi wc con lo standard Watermark ed uno scarico a flusso pieno di soli 4,5 litri d'acqua

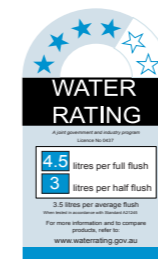

Huge saving of water e highest hygiene for a simple cleaning: these are the innovative NO-RIM system results. The water enters dynamically and spreads in a uniform way on the entire surface. With no-rim system the pan can be cleaned with greater strength and without splashing, ensuring a performing sanitary ware over the time.

RESPECT OF THE ENVIRONMENT

AT THE TOP OF OUR PRIORITIES

Axa contributes to water saving with research and development since 2001 and, anticipating the current market orientation by more than a decade, certifies all its toilets with the Watermark standard and a full flush of only 4.5 liters of water.

L'intuizione iniziale si sviluppa attraverso un percorso progettuale "guidato" dal sistema numerico, considerato dalla scuola pitagorica in poi come principio ordinatore di tutte le cose.

Ne consegue che il lavoro necessario per arrivare alla definizione del prodotto, più che un atto di creatività finalizzato alla ricerca di forme originali, è stato un vero e proprio rito caratterizzato da una liturgia continua, ripetitiva e a tratti ossessiva, ma necessaria per indagare l'origine delle cose, a mio avviso sempre presente in ogni atto poetico. L'originarietà al posto dell'originalità.

Da qui anche la scelta del nome dei prodotti, "Dp", Divina proporzione che per pudore nominerò solo nella versione abbreviata del suo acronimo. Un nome voluto fortemente perché rappresenta un omaggio a tutti quei tentativi di ricostruire un vero sapere proporzionale capace di misurarsi con la progettazione.

In un'epoca come quella attuale, in cui tutto è evento e spettacolo da consumare nel minor tempo possibile, il nome scelto vuole essere anche una dedica doverosa al celebre testo "De divina proportione" pubblicato nel 1498 dal matematico Luca Pacioli, ed al famoso convegno del 1951 alla IX Triennale di Milano.

Attraverso forme semplici e regolari, attraverso geometrie elementari costruite su rapporti desunti dal passato senza un brutale utilizzo della regola, si ottengono oggetti la cui bellezza non risiede nell'appagamento immediato di una visione, ma nell'incanto che, dispiegandone lentamente le fattezze e svelandone l'essenza, diventa rivelatore di un prodotto che nella sua sostanza potremmo definire classico.

The initial intuition develops through a design path "guided" by the numerical system, considered by the Pythagorean school onwards as ordering principle of all.

The work to define the product, rather than a creativity act aimed at finding original shapes, was accordingly a real rite featured by a constant liturgy, obsessive and repetitive sometimes, but essential to investigate the origin of things, in my opinion base of every poetic act.

Origin instead of originality.

Hence the choice of the name "Dp", Divine proportion, I will mention, for modesty, only in its abbreviated acronym version. A strongly desired name representing a tribute to all those attempts to rebuild a real proportional knowledge, able to compete with the design.

In the current age, in which everything is conceived as an event and a show to be consumed in the shortest possible time, the name chosen wants to be also a dutiful deference to the famous text "De divina proportione" published in 1498 by the mathematician Luca Pacioli, and to the well-known conference held in 1951 at the ninth Triennale of Milan.

Through simple and regular forms, elementary geometries built on ratios taken from the past without a brutal use of the rule, we can obtain objects whose beauty does not lie into an immediate gratification of the vision, but in the enchantment that, slowly unfolding the features and revealing the essence, becomes the revealer of a product we could define in its substance as classic.

Nasce da un'intuizione di forte naturalità questa collezione dal nome così evocativo. Linee essenziali che poco concedono all'ornamento fine a se stesso, ma che si concentrano su forme sobrie che nei lavabi esaltano la semplice funzione di accogliere e contenere l'acqua e nei sanitari adottano le curve naturali del sasso di fiume, che l'acqua ha levigato e conformato.

This evocatively named collection grew out of an exquisitely natural vision. Its pared-down styling indulges in little extra ornamentation, opting instead for understatement: in the sinks, it highlights the simple function of receiving and holding water, and in the fixtures, it takes on the natural curves of a river-polished pebble.
